

Federation of Local History Societies

Privacy Policy

From time to time you may be asked to submit personal information about yourself (e.g. name, e-mail address etc.) in order to receive or use services on our website, or when submitting requests or general queries. By entering your details in the fields requested, you enable the Federation and its service providers to provide you with the services you select. Whenever you provide such personal information, we will treat that information in accordance with this policy, and we will undertake to ensure that all personal information supplied is held securely in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998. Any information you provide to us will only be used within our organisation and by its service providers. It will never be supplied to anyone outside of the organisation without first obtaining your consent, unless we are obliged or permitted by law to disclose it.

Our services are ultimately designed to give you the information that you want to receive. We will act in accordance with current legislation and aim to meet current internet best practice.

If you discover any information on our pages which you believe to be inaccurate or inappropriate please let us know immediately at larrybreen8@eircom.net.

Disclaimer

Although we have taken care in the development of this website to present up to date and accurate information, we cannot guarantee that inaccuracies will not occur. The Federation will not be held responsible for any loss, damage or inconvenience of any kind (expressed or implied) caused as a result of any inaccuracies or errors within these pages. Any links from our site which lead to other websites are provided purely for your convenience and do not imply that the Federation endorses or supports these organisations or the information on their pages. Also no responsibility is assumed by the Federation for the contents of any third party's pages.